

CPF implementation status in the SLR station Riga

K. Salminsh

This paper discusses current CPF implementation in the Riga SLR station featuring automatic CPF data download and verification for the selected satellites and CPF compression and storage within relational database. Brief overview of the CPF's use in the predictions and data analysis software and experienced technical difficulties is presented as well.